

Brisbane, QLD

Sunday 7th to Tuesday 9th November 2021

Royal on the Park

Kookaburra Showboat Cruises

Brisbane City Botanic Gardens

With so many aspects that make up our lives, let's take a few days to develop some new skills and interests that can help prepare us for a deeper and more meaningful life. Throughout this meeting, we'll experience nature, human health and mental well-being.

Named after former NSW governor, Sir Thomas Brisbane, the home to many a winning State of Origin series and the world-famous lamington, Brisbane provides for a mild, mid-winter meeting. We'll be based in the city centre with the beautiful Botanical Gardens and elegant Brisbane River a short stroll away.

Our 40 minute board sessions are scheduled on days 1 and 2. There's a variety of activities spread across the 3 days to relax and enlighten, to walk amongst the trees, to expand wealth opportunities and to experience a social food enterprise. This is cultivating life!

Program activities at a glance...

- Optional pre-meeting dinner at Bill and Margaret Bridgeford's home in the suburb of Auchenflower
- 40 minute advisory board sessions and a group session
- Kookaburra River Cruise with dinner along the Brisbane River
- A guided Sahaja Yoga Meditation session by Adel Moradian
- A guided tour of the Brisbane City Botanical Gardens
- Learn about cryptocurrency and blockchains from a young man co-founding crypto innovation
- Visit the Food Connect Shed to experience Brisbane's first community-owned local food economy
- Plenty of social time during our meals together

Venue...

Royal on the Park is situated at the southern end of the Brisbane CBD, located across the road from the Brisbane City Botanical Gardens and within walking distance to popular areas such as Eagle Street Pier, Queen Street Mall, Southbank and Kangaroo Point.

Accommodation...

Please arrange your own accommodation and breakfast. If looking to book a room at Royal On The Park, please do so as soon as possible as we are unable to hold any rooms for our group. Refer to the registration page for details on booking at the venue.

Cryptocurrencies and Blockchains... how might these apply to you?

What do you know about cryptocurrency and how blockchain works? Why is it becoming a big deal with financial institutions, El Salvador and China over the past year? We'll break down this relatively new concept with a guest speaker who is stepping through the discovery phase of an innovative blockchain development. Whether you have dipped your toe in, sat on the bank or dived head first into the mysterious waters of crypto, this session aims to explore how this technology may be an option to grow your wealth. Bring along your experiences and questions to share.

Food Connect Shed, founded by Rob Perkins, Emma-Kate Rose and a small group of Brisbane mums. On day 3, we travel down to spend the morning at this community owned place for connection, creation and change.

Home to over 20 good food organisations and social enterprises like Food Connect, OzHarvest, and Ballistic Beer Co, the Shed is an eclectic ecosystem where the new creative, local food economy can move the needle on a healthier, fairer food future.

In 2019, a little bit of history was made through an equity crowdfunding campaign, raising over $2 million to buy the warehouse that social enterprise Food Connect had called home - creating Brisbane's first community-owned food hub. In securing the Shed as a forever home (between 521 proud new owners), they've secured a stable market for local growers, and a future of opportunities for budding entrepreneurs.

Adel Moradian from the not-for-profit organisation of Sahaja Yoga Australia, provides a facilitated meditation session. This technique demonstrates a simple way to meditate, based on the motherly energy known as Kundalini, the essence of mother nature within ourselves. The session awakens awareness, allows you to become witness to the reality around you, is mindful though more automatic or spontaneous and provides immediate relief. This technique also assists with your expression in art and creativity. Adel will also talk about human awareness, consciousness and overcoming mental projections and conditionings that often stay in the way of intuition and inspiration.
